

What our space can be used for:

Our mission is to create accessible community spaces of healing where people of all backgrounds, especially those who have historically been underserved, can convene and show up as their authentic selves. We are intentionally and collaboratively building a space in the community that is committed to addressing barriers to healing while also bringing awareness and support for social justice issues in Olympia and beyond. We do this through collaboration with community and prioritizing rentals for community events centering the needs of LGBTQIA+, Black, Indigenous, and People of Color, and people with disabilities. This is not a general event venue. All events and activities hosted at The Liberation Collective (TLC) must align with our mission. We do not permit events where alcohol is served or sold.

About Our Space:

Our ADA accessible building is located at 220 Union Ave, Olympia, WA 98501 in Friendship Hall (smaller red building next to YWCA of Olympia). We have plenty of parking on the street near our building. We have about 900 square feet of open space, plus an ADA accessible bathroom, a small kitchenette, and backyard space we share with YWCA of Olympia. The space can accommodate up to 75 people total depending on the seating and table arrangements. For yoga classes, our space can accommodate up to 30 yoga mats. Classes and events are limited to groups of 75 people or less at a time, unless special approval is given.

You are also responsible for wiping down the kitchen counters (if kitchen was used) and putting furniture and supplies back where they belong.

Hours of Operation:

Monday – Friday: 9:00am – 9:00pm

Saturday – Sunday: Varies, available on case-by-case basis

Teacher and Facilitator Requirements

Anyone can lead a class or event at TLC. Teachers leading movement classes that are strenuous in nature or that include specialized movement, such as yoga or Zumba must show proof of appropriate certifications to teach these movement classes, where applicable. If you are teaching from a tradition that is not of your own culture, we seek teachers who are teaching in ways that honor the origins of what they are teaching and who are in a practice of deepening their connection to authentic cultural appreciation. Your space reservation time must include adequate time for set-up and clean-up after your class or event.

Participant Safety and Waiver

All participants in any movement-based classes, cooking classes, or other classes that involve potentially risky activities must sign a TLC waiver before they attend their first class. We will tell you in your rental agreement if these are required.

Quarterly Rental Agreements:

Our Advisory Board reviews applications on an ongoing basis and updates our class schedules quarterly. Teachers/facilitators must complete a rental application quarterly to maintain their facility use agreement with TLC. If you are a returning user, you can complete the shorter returning user rental application or contact us at info@tlcoly.com. We try our best to honor the recurring class times of returning teachers/facilitators, but we cannot guarantee that time slots will be available to the same people from one quarter to the next. Applications received by the priority application deadline will get the first priority at scheduling times, but applications can be submitted any time. We review and respond to applications within 30 days of receiving them.
